

Paul Rogers

bio_pic

Professor of Peace Studies at Bradford University where he teaches courses on international security, arms control and political violence. He has written or edited 26 books and his work has been translated into many languages including Chinese, Japanese, French, Spanish, German, Italian, Turkish and Farsi. A collection of his writings over the past 20 years was published by Routledge in 2007 under the title of Global Security and the War on Terror – Elite Power and the Illusion of Control and the third edition of his book Losing Control: Global Security in the 21st Century, will be published in April 2010. Paul is international security consultant for the Oxford Research Group, writes a weekly assessment of international security trends for <http://www.opendemocracy.net> and was Chair of the British International Studies Association (2002-04). He is a frequent lecturer at defence colleges and also does over a hundred interviews a year for local, national and international broadcast networks.

- Staff and Associates

View PDF